

FAME (Female Attorneys of the Mountain Empire)

FAME hosted its first breakfast in Johnson City on December 8, 2005, to welcome new Tennessee bar members in the First Judicial District. Long-time FAME and TLAW members Judge Jean Stanley and Judge Sharon Green opened the program with a welcome to the more than 100 persons attending the breakfast, which included new bar members, judges and attorneys from Washington, Johnson, Unicoi, and Carter counties.

Judge Green introduced the new bar members who gave a brief introduction of themselves. Judge Stanley then introduced the judges of the First Judicial District who treated the attendees to some local practice pointers as well as humor on how to survive the practice of law in general and in their courtrooms.

Following the program, attendees had time to chat with new members of the bar as well as to say hello to their colleagues from neighboring counties that they do not see regularly.

FAME would like to thank TLAW and all the local attorneys and firms whose donations made the breakfast possible. FAME also thanks Judge Green and Judge Stanley for the very enjoyable program, long-time FAME/TLAW members Polly Peterson and Judith Fain for their extra efforts, as well as Sandra Jelovsek and the many other FAME members who helped with the breakfast.
