

Katie Edge, of the Marion Griffin Chapter of the Lawyers Association for Women and past president of TLAW, has been elected president of the Legal Aid Society of Middle Tennessee and the Cumberland. She is a member of the Nashville office of Miller & Martin PLLC. Susan Kay, associate dean of the Vanderbilt University Law School and member of the Marion Griffin Chapter, was elected second vice-president of the society. The Legal Aid Society of Middle Tennessee and the Cumberland serves a 48-county region from offices located in Nashville, Gallatin, Clarksville, Columbia, Tullahoma, Oak Ridge, Murfreesboro, and Cookeville.